Rector's, of New York, is running page ads in large dailies all over the United States.

Advertising DOES NOT PAY UNLESS you put time and thought in it or get someone to do it for you. You know a stove will not cook anything unless there is a hot fire in it, and it is the same way with advertising; it must be ablaze with reminders of what people need and want. $30 is the smallest price ad you can put in the Saturday Evening Post and thousands of people spend that every week for advertising—so it pays. Some companies spend six thousand dollars a week for advertising—surely it pays and pays well.
